FRAUD PREVENTION – CUSTOMER VERIFICATION AND VALIDATION

During the preparation of your quotation and contract you provided details about you, other people named as drivers under the policy, the insured vehicle and how that vehicle is to be used.

To prevent or detect fraud we will check the details you have provided with various fraud prevention agencies and anti-fraud registers, who may record a search. Searches may also be made against other insurers' databases, the Electoral Roll and the Register of Judgments, Orders and Fines. To validate your (and any persons named on the policy) driving history we may also check the available databases to confirm your licence status, entitlement and restriction information and endorsement/conviction data as well as any No Claims Discount you are claiming.

If there is a discrepancy between the information held on the databases and the information that has been provided to us during the application process, we will contact you to ask for documents to help us validate the correct details. There may be a simple explanation for the discrepancy, however we must query inconsistencies to ensure the data we hold is accurate. We may cancel your insurance policy if we believe fraudulent details have been provided so it is important that you respond to our requests in the timescales we give you.

For further details of how we may use your data and to view our full privacy policy please visit www.premierunderwriting.com/privacy-policy.

However, you may cancel the policy within 14 days after it has been taken out or (if later) within 14 days of your receipt of the policy documents without giving any reason. If that happens, we will refund your premium after first deducting a charge for the cover provided from the beginning of the contract until the policy is cancelled.

The policy may also be cancelled:

- by you at any point by contacting your insurance advisor – full details of any charges can be found under the General Conditions contained in the policy.
- by us at any time by giving you 7 days notice of cancellation – full details may be found under the General Conditions contained in the policy.
